A Positive Approach

Public Service is at the heart of society.

Fuelled by the fire of a responsible economy it helps us to be healthy, cared for, housed, protected and free to make the best of our lives.

Through Cornwall Council I am ready and willing to do my bit.
Put simply: I want to make our special part of the world an even better place to be.

As your Councillor
I commit to:

- Represent your concerns
- Speak up for change
- Support excellence &
- Confront complacency

As your councillor I believe there will be 3 big issues to be addressed:

1. The Environment

Our global and local responsibilities to the planet are paramount and must underpin all political & economic decisions that we make.

2. The Economy

Without a vibrant and responsible economy there are no funds for public service - support for hard-pressed business is a must.

3. Public Services

Our society is defined by the way in which we care for one another. In education, housing, health & social care - excellence can be achieved even in difficult times - by prioritising and organising well.

At a Local Level

This means schools, housing, care for the elderly and disabled, parking, clean streets, safe streets, places for our children to go, community facilities, help for local business: in fact everything to do with the way we lead our lives day-to-day.

“No one person – and no one party – can save the world – but a few deeply committed people can make it a better place.”

My Credentials

I have lived in Arwenack for the 21 years and was born and brought up in Cornwall. I am an entrepreneur, consultant, mentor & coach to business and government, and Director of Beside The Wave Art Gallery in Falmouth. I have also worked in health & social care, education and economic development. In short, my career has been committed to positive change. Through my work and my friendships I now know many of you in this ward and trust therefore, that I can do justice to your views.
